

TICKET THIEF GOT PASTEBOARDS WORTH THOUSAND DOLLARS

Raton Robber Arrested at Local Station.

FOUND WITH THE GOODS ON HIM IN PAINTING GANG'S SPECIAL CAR

A man giving his name as C. D. Roper was arrested yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock by Special Officer Ben Williams of the Santa Fe and Depotmaster Wells for stealing $1,000 worth of railway tickets from the Santa Fe ticket office at Raton on Wednesday.

The man was arrested in the car carrying the painters' gang of the Santa Fe with which Roper was working. He had gone to work with the men on the local station after arriving here yesterday.

The man was caught asleep in the car, and a grip which he had with him was found to contain the tickets, which were the Duplex variety for use on all railroads, the tickets being merely in blank. In the grip also were found a pair of handcuffs and a certificate of membership in the American Detective association.

Roper was arrested on the strength of a telegram from Raton to Mr. Williams, who in company with the station master had no difficulty in locating their man. He made no attempt to resist and said that he had with the goods on him it was a plain case. He was placed in jail and will be taken to Raton today.

It is presumed that Roper obtained access to the ticket office while at work painting the station at Raton, although the wire last night gave no details of the robbery.

THREE SMALL BOYS OUT TO SEE THE WORLD

NORTH SIDE YOUTHS EMBARK ON FOOTING EXPEDITION WITH BURRO-PARENTS ANXIOUS.

Three more of Albuquerque's adventurous youth have started out to see the world without advising their rather anxious parents of their destination and as a result E. A. Byr, of 965 North Eighth street, C. Phillips, of 563 North Eighth street and J. W. Weir, of 917 North Eleventh street, have taken to the hills in search of adventure, mounted on the burro, has disappeared. The youngsters failed to come home Friday night and it is supposed that they either parted with the burro and left town on a train or have taken to the hills in search of adventure, mounted on the burro. The police had not been able to locate the boys up to a late hour last night.

Trouble with the festive small boy is rapidly bringing Chief McMullin bent and broken to his grave. A few days ago a small boy ran away from home. His anxious parents came for him. The boy was located in Canon City, Colorado, and a ticket sent there for his return. He came back, but instead of getting off at the Albuquerque station he kept right on and was finally collared by an officer at Isleta. Next morning the boy was sent back to the arms of his anxious parents, but he kept right on going, and it was only by quick work that he was captured at Lamy Junction.

Seven boys, all between eight and fourteen years, were lined up before the chief Friday night and yesterday for various offenses. One small boy confided to the officer that he did steal the flowers, but that he wanted them to give to his teacher. Since the teacher couldn't be pinched for receiving stolen goods, it became necessary to let the affectionate scholar go his way.

ATTEMPTED TO TAKE LIFE WITH RAZOR

VENUE OF HAMBURGERS MADE UGLY GASH IN THROAT AND IS LAID UP FOR REPAIRS.

E. Norris, of 514 John street, made an attempt to take his own life yesterday morning by slashing his throat with a razor in the back yard of his home. Norris' attempt to end his life followed an altercation with his wife, who had upbraided him for being out all night. The man has for some weeks been selling hamburgers, steaks, sandwiches and other mid-night lunch delicacies from a small stand on Railroad avenue, and his chief business there is to make a few dollars in the night. He had been having been to keep his stand open from 8 o'clock until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, depending on the volume of business. Yesterday morning after closing his stand, he stayed down town for awhile and when he went home his wife found fault with him for his late return. Norris at once took up his razor, went into the back yard and cut a long gash across his throat. His wife discovered him almost at once and set up a cry which attracted the neighbors, who sent in a call for the police. Officer Knapp responded and with the help of a surgeon stopped the bleeding and took the man to St. Joseph's sanitarium, where he is recovering from his wounds very satisfactorily.

The razor made an ugly, but not a deep gash and none of the main arteries were severed. Norris is well satisfied that his attempt to end his life did not prove successful. He will be out of the hospital in a few days.

A Judicial Inquiry.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child, they almost invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know that there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

HORNBLOWER ASKS FLK TO COME TO AID OF JEROME

Chance for the Missourian to Show His Mettle.

FEARLESS PROSECUTOR IS WAGING AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN

New York, Oct. 20.—William B. Hornblower has signed and sent the following call to Governor Folger: "The undersigned citizens of New York without regard to party invite and urge you for the sake of good government, and in order to keep in office a fearless and faithful public servant, to come here and speak for Jerome."

The municipal campaign is now in full swing, the three leading candidates for mayor having opened headquarters. W. W. Ivins, the republican candidate for mayor, has opened headquarters in the Hotel Gresham. Mr. Ivins has written a platform for himself in the form of an open letter to Mayor McClellan and W. R. Hearst. He promises that if he is elected he will do his best to get the legislature to pass a law that would enable the city to get possession of all gas plants by condemnation proceedings. He wants Messrs. McClellan and Hearst to meet him in joint debate.

The Hearst ticket. Mr. Hearst has completed his county and Manhattan borough tickets and to and of his candidates are to go on the stump and speak nearly every night from now until election day. Tammany held its ratification meeting Thursday night. Mayor McClellan made the principal speech, his first public appearance in the campaign.

District Attorney Jerome began his campaign for re-election this week, after receiving the failure of Tammany, the republican machine, and the Hearst men to endorse him without any visible surprise or disappointment.

Chance to Hear Jerome. These meetings will give most of the town a chance to hear the candidate who wasn't afraid to run independently.

Mr. Hearst has practically certain of what few were willing to believe—that neither Tammany nor the republicans could endorse his name. That the municipal ownership enthusiasts did not desert him in the hour of need, and that his approval was not a staggering blow, for these men like to keep things in the family, and Mr. Shearn, their nominee for district attorney, is Mr. Hearst's attorney.

It is remembered that four years ago, when Mr. Jerome was making his running with the fusionists, his campaign was constantly threatened by the Tammany machine, which was then in power. Mr. Jerome's running mate, Mr. Shearn, was then a member of the fusionist ticket, and Mr. Jerome's running mate, Mr. Shearn, was then a member of the fusionist ticket, and Mr. Jerome's running mate, Mr. Shearn, was then a member of the fusionist ticket.

Jerome Offended by Plain Talk. According to stories which have been told since the convention, Tammany agreed not to endorse Jerome's candidacy, but the county republicans, who really have not much reason to do their faith to political promises, any source decided that they would wait until after the Tammany convention before naming their own candidate.

Many of the Tammany district leaders, who were on the ticket, then wanted him badly, so the matter was left apparently in doubt up to the last minute, when Osborne was sprung. Former Governor Odell who is boss-republican county politics had said that he would back Jerome if he had a chance, and when his convention was called on the next night after the Tammany convention he had decided that he did not have to have him.

Mr. Jerome's plain speaking, last summer on his western trip, it is said, offended both Odell and Tammany leader Murphy, who did not think it worth while to try to run a man who was honest enough to tell all he knew about the two organizations, without regard to the effect on his own or any one else's campaign.

Mr. Jerome has said that the people are on trial, and not himself. If they want a man unaffiliated with either organization, who is willing to work in their interests unhampered by party obligations, he is ready to serve them, but if they don't want him, let them say so. The situation as he defines it.

Working on County Defense Problem. Washington, Oct. 21.—The military naval board which has been engaged in an effort to revise the so-called Elliott plan of coast defense, is said to be at work on the problem. There is an impression among some members that it will be impossible to set aside some of the original estimates for fortification, at least so far as it relates to guns.

There is comparatively no chance that there will be any material relief of the total sum, however, since it is quite evident to experts that what is saved in one direction will be required in another in at least equal measure. For instance, it now appears that it will be necessary to have considerable provision made for submarine defense, and that this feature must be developed beyond anything which was realized by the authors of the Elliott plan. A large part of the later estimate will probably go for the purchase of submarine boats and the material required in underwater protection and attack.

The secretary of war expressed the hope that the original estimate of $150,000,000 may be reduced to $130,000,000, but those who are familiar with the needs of the service and the cost of material insist that there cannot be any material saving.

MR. HYDE MAY TELL INTERESTING TALE OF THE YELLOW DOG

Former Equitable Chief To Be Examined.

COMMITTEE HOPES TO GET TO HIM THIS WEEK

New York, Oct. 21.—It is the present intention of the legislative committee investigating insurance matters to put Emory McClintock on the witness stand when the committee resumes its session on Tuesday. McClintock is one of the company's actuaries and McClintock referred to him several times during his examination. Whether Hyde will be reached next week remains doubtful at present.

Mr. Hyde returned to town this week, and is at his home, 9 East Fortieth street. This is the first time Mr. Hyde has appeared in New York state, at least publicly, since last July, when the investigation committee began to send out subpoena-servers. He has promised to appear before the committee whenever his presence is wanted, and tell freely all that he knows about questionable transactions in the Equitable society.

Mr. Hyde is a much-desired witness. Without him there are many things in the Equitable tangle that would never be cleared up. Mr. Hyde's determination to appear before the stand, to put himself before the public in as favorable a light as possible, and to demonstrate that he is not responsible for many of the irregularities in the Equitable management, blame for which has been laid at his door. Mr. Hyde will also tell the committee something about the $485,000 blind loan in the Mercantile Trust company—the Equitable "yellow dog" fund—which has up to this time remained completely in the dark. Mr. Hyde, an officer of the Equitable society, endorsed the note which secured this loan.
